On the ground, formalities are simplified and customizable for corporate groups, with the option of fast track, dedicated welcome, and tailor-made transfers. The national (NS) and international (Thalys and Eurostar) rail systems also support MICE travel with business and first class carriages, mobile meeting rooms, stable Wi-Fi, and quiet environments perfect for working while traveling. Connections between cities and regions are fast, convenient, and punctual, ideal for creating seamless and efficient itineraries. Dutch logistics excellence is also reflected in its MICE providers: experienced local operators, accustomed to managing international groups, ensure high standards and flexible planning, even in unconventional locations or in settings immersed in nature.

In the afternoon, the experience continues among craft breweries and social cooking workshops, fostering informal exchange and sensory connection. The day concludes in a small theater with an exclusive performance on the theme of corporate identity, strengthening internal alignment through art.

DAY 4 – UTRECHT CAMPAIGN: SIMPLIFY AND COLLABORATE

In the heart of the Dutch countryside, a historic estate becomes the ideal base for a day dedicated to strategic work and co-design. After a leisurely breakfast, activities unfold amid 18th-century orangeries, riverside paths, and rooms immersed in greenery, fostering reflection and deep collaboration. A cruise on the Vecht River with a light lunch on board accompanies the group in a relaxed moment of exchange. The day concludes with a candlelit dinner in a converted monastery, lending the experience a sense of calm and completion.

DAY 5 – ROTTERDAM NORTH: CLOSING AND CELEBRATION

The final day takes place in Rotterdam's lesser-known neighborhood, where the group explores Oude Noorden through a narrative walk amidst street art and cooperative spaces. Breakfast at a creative café introduces the final day, which continues with a closing workshop in a former school transformed into a cultural space. This time is dedicated to summarizing past experiences, enhancing the group's appreciation, and projecting the future. A light lunch with local musicians offers an informal yet intense conclusion, in true Dutch style, before returning to the stations or airport.
